CGNA2023: Emerging from the Mist

Gerontological Nurses...We Are Ready!

The Canadian Gerontological Nursing Association and the Gerontological Nursing Association Ontario are excited to announce the Call for Abstracts for CGNA2023, the 22nd Biennial Conference of the CGNA, taking place April 20-22, 2023 in Niagara Falls, Canada.

Gerontological Nurses have lived and cared through unprecedented times. As we emerge from the pandemic, and the mist has lifted, we are able to see more clearly. As we look to the past, the lessons learned have become very apparent. As we look to what lies ahead, there is a sense of hope and new beginnings. We have been longing to implement new ideas, try new things, and think about things in different ways.

We are ready!

The CGNA biennial conference is the only event of its kind that focuses on all facets of education, practice and research in the care of older adults.

With an increasing aging population, it is critical that gerontological nurses remain engaged with the latest developments in research and practice in the field.

The CGNA conference is a key educational and networking event for nurses, students, educators, policy makers, administrators and all others in the field of gerontological nursing.

Visit the CGNA2023 website to submit your abstracts and learn more about the conference, including the conference program, speakers, venue, and hotel and travel discounts.

Abstracts are due September 30, 2022!

We look forward to welcoming you to #CGNA2023!
